ISMIS is a conference series started in 1986. Held twice every three years, ISMIS provides an international forum for exchanging scientific research and technological achievements in building intelligent systems. Its goal is to achieve a vibrant interchange between researchers and practitioners on fundamental and advanced issues related to intelligent systems. ISMIS 2008 featured a selection of latest research work and applications from the following areas related to intelligent systems: active media human-computer interaction, autonomic and evolutionary computation, digital libraries, intelligent agent technology, intelligent information retrieval, intelligent information systems, intelligent language processing, knowledge representation and integration, knowledge discovery and data mining, knowledge visualization, logic for artificial intelligence, soft computing, Web intelligence, and Web services. Researchers and developers from 29 countries submitted more than 100 full papers to the conference. Each paper was rigorously reviewed by three committee members and external reviewers. Out of these submissions, 40% were selected as regular papers and 22% as short papers. ISMIS 2008 also featured three plenary talks given by John Mylopoulos, Jiawei Han and Michael Lowry. They spoke on their recent research in agent-oriented software engineering, information network mining, and intelligent software engineering tools, respectively.
