Automated Instruction and Performance Monitoring in Flight Simulator Training Victor Faconti,1970 The report documents research in the area of automated instruction and performance monitoring. One objective of the research was to develop modular approaches to implementing eight individual automated training capabilities in flight simulators. Several approaches to each area are identified and briefly investigated. More complete investigation, including programming flow diagrams and hardware and software estimates, is presented on those approaches in each capability area which appeared to be most feasible. Two integrated systems, i.e. systems which include all eight automated training capabilities, are described. Several methods of implementation, in relation to the computer complex, are presented.
