Pressing My Luck Shirley Press,2013-06-28 In 2001, Dr. Shirley Press was your typical, hard-working pediatric emergency room doctor...until she won 56 million dollars (17.5 million take home) in the Florida Lottery with a ticket bought in the hospital's gift shop. This stroke of luck brought with it numerous challenges as well as self-discovery. In her memoir, Pressing My Luck, Dr. Press takes readers on a tour of her life and candidly looks back on how the lottery windfall affected it. She recalls her childhood in Camden, New Jersey growing up with parents who were Holocaust survivors, her determination to become successful, the wild 1970 summer adventure at Paul McCartney's house and the years dedicated to practicing medicine. And despite her lottery fortune, she reveals how money didn't shield her family from life's adversities, such as her husband's near fatal illness and her son's drug addiction. With insight and candor, Dr. Press recounts her decisions, daily struggles as well as post-lottery observations on family, friends and life in general. In the end, Dr. Press can hardly believe that most of her confidence and personal growth that she thought was due to winning the Lotto could have been achieved without all the money.

The Park Tammy Hotsenpiller,2017-03-10 Rachel D'Angelo has had her fair share of heartache and disappointment. This last go around is no exception, but pain, sorrow, and loss can be the very thing needed to push a person into their divine destiny. From a childhood encounter on her fire escape in Queens to the hospital beside of the one she's relied on most...He's been there. Now, sitting on a park bench in her place of refuge, Rachel is confronted with the revelation: He's been with her all along. Wiping the tears away, she's finally ready to receive His love. At a time when the Holy Spirit of God is absent from most conversations, The Park will get the dialogue started. He is there, you know...waiting for you! The Park will compel you to tell your story and pass it along to those who need Him most. All proceeds support Women of Influence www.womenofinfluence.today

Caring for Creation Paul Douglas,Mitch Hescocox,2016-10-04 Faith-Based Solutions to Caring for the Earth Climate change is a confusing and polarizing issue. It may also prove to be the most daunting challenge of this century because children, the elderly, and the poor will be the first to feel its effects. The issue is all over the news, but what is seldom heard is a conservative, evangelical perspective. Connecting the dots between science and faith, this book explores the climate debate and how Christians can take the lead in caring for God's creation. The authors answer top questions such as What's really happening? and Who can we trust? and discuss stewarding the earth in light of evangelical values. Acting on climate change is not about political agendas, they say. It's about our kids. It's about being a disciple of Jesus Christ. Capping off this empowering book are practical, simple ideas for improving our environment and helping our families and those around us.

The Deeds of the Divine Augustus Augustus,2017-04-24 Res Gestae Divi Augusti (Eng. The Deeds of the Divine Augustus) is the funerary inscription of the first Roman emperor, Augustus, giving a first-person record of his life and accomplishments. The Res Gestae is especially significant because it gives an insight into the image Augustus portrayed to the Roman people. Various inscriptions of the Res Gestae have been found scattered across the former Roman Empire. The inscription itself is a monument to the establishment of the Julio-Claudian dynasty that was to follow Augustus. The text consists of a short introduction, 35 body paragraphs, and a posthumous addendum. These paragraphs are conventionally grouped in four sections, political career, public benefactions, military accomplishments and a political statement. The first section (paragraphs 2-14) is concerned with Augustus' political career; it records the offices and political honours that he held. Augustus also lists numerous offices he refused to take and privileges he refused to be awarded. The second section (paragraphs 15-24) lists Augustus' donations of money, land and grain to the citizens of Italy and his soldiers, as well as the public works and gladiatorial spectacles that he commissioned. The text is careful to point out that all this was paid for out of Augustus' own funds. The third section (paragraphs 25-33) describes his military deeds and how he established alliances with other nations during his reign. Finally the fourth section (paragraphs 34-35) consists of a statement of the Romans' approval for the reign and deeds of Augustus. The appendix is written in the third person, and likely not by Augustus himself. It summarizes the entire text, and lists various buildings he renovated or constructed; it states that Augustus spent 600 million silver denarii (i.e. 600,000 gold denarii) from his own funds during his reign on public projects. Ancient currencies cannot be reliably converted into modern equivalents, but it is clearly more than anyone else in the Empire could afford. Augustus consolidated his hold on power by reversing the prior tax policy beginning with funding the aerarium militare with 170 million sesterces of his own money.
