Building a WordPress Blog People Want to Read Scott McNulty,2009-03-30 Having your own blog isn't just for the nerdy anymore. Today, it seems everyone – from multinational corporations to a neighbor up the street – has a blog. They all have one, in part, because the folks at WordPress make it easy to get one. but to actually build a good blog – to create a blog people want to read – takes thought, planning, and some effort. From picking a theme and using tags to choosing widgets and building a community, creating your blog really starts after you set it up. In this book by blogger extraordinaire Scott McNulty, you learn how to: Install and get your WordPress blog running. Set up your site to ensure it can easily grow with you and your readers. Be the master of user accounts. Manage your site with the WordPress Dashboard and extend its capabilities with plug-ins. Make the most of images. Work with pages, templates, and links and – of course – publish your posts. Deal with comments – if you even want readers commenting at all. Find a theme – or build one yourself. Maintain your site and fix common problems.

Web Design for Libraries Charles P. Rubenstein,2014-08-28 Having a clear, attractive, and easy-to-navigate website that allows users to quickly find what they want is essential for any organization—including a library. This workbook makes website creation easy—no HTML required. This book teaches all of the essentials for designing and creating a simple, professional-looking website for any library. By using cut-and-paste templates from familiar software programs, readers can create complex websites in short order—without learning confusing HTML coding. Three final chapters cover using style sheets, address the potential benefits of HTML5, and overview content management system based websites. By using this guidebook as a reference, even those without previous knowledge about web design will possess enough basic information to create a great web page—and, with a little practice, prepare a full library website.
