Take Her and Run Gabriella Grace, 2018-06-15 After cutting the birth mother out of the girls' lives, the father develops a relationship with a woman who falls in love with the two little girls. She has a special place in her heart for the one with special needs. Behaviors lead Veronica to suspect molestation, but for a long time, there is no evidence. Eventually, history comes to light, and after denials and confrontations, the family breaks up. The girls are first left with Veronica, but eventually, the father gains back custody of one and then both girls. When actual evidence of molestation presents itself, it is reported, but the father retains custody and cuts the only mom they know out of both girls' lives. In this story, an opportunity arises for Veronica to kidnap the girl with developmental delay. She takes this opportunity to run and hide, making the long drive to the East Coast where she knows absolutely no one. Veronica disguises Dani as a boy, colors and perms her hair, gathers her pets, and sets out on a road trip to remember. The journey to the East Coast is overall a happy time but always with an underlying fear of exposure.

We Aren't Finished Surviving Gabriella Ganem, 2022-06-11 Jackson Carter had his entire career planned out. Moving to Utah was his golden ticket to a spot on one of the nation's best snowboarding teams. The fact that they wanted him... well, that's a dream come true. He's on top of the world, literally, and he loves it. Before he embarks on the journey to the rest of his life, Jackson agrees to one more road trip over the winter break. He's returning home to Montrose, Colorado, with his brother Andrew and their friends, Brooke, Lydia, and Lucas. After all, Jackson isn't about to miss a chance to spend hours in a car with Brooke. But the trip meant as a last hurrah before school begins turns into a nightmare when they're involved in a devastating accident. Neither Jackson nor his friends could have guessed the aftermath would leave them trapped at the bottom of a mountain, at the mercy of the Colorado winter. The group is far from equipped to weather the cold or whatever else might lurk in the forest, and the emotional trauma of the accident is taking its toll on all of them. They must focus on one thing, and one thing only, staying alive. But as they fight for their lives on the other side of the accident, Jackson doesn't know how he will face the winter he once loved or continue to chase his dreams when it has caused so much heartache. What will he do when the snow that made him so happy before now fills his heart with terror? How can he keep surviving?

Everlasting Essence Ria Prestia, 2011-06-07 Even though she's had a loving husband, beautiful children, and a solid career, forty-one-year-old Gabriella Visconti-McHolland has never felt complete. Now, she has a life-altering decision to make. Bryan, her husband of twenty years, wants to move to Florida for an incredible job opportunity, but Gabby would rather stay in New York to pursue her own career. Besides, does she really love Bryan enough to completely uproot her life for him? To answer this haunting question, Gabriella embarks on a journey to discover the essence that dwells deep within her soul and to find the child in her that she thought was lost. After years of being the wife and mother, Gabriella must find the woman underneath those roles to unearth her true identity. Gabriella questions the stability of her marriage. To find out if it can survive, Gabriella and Bryan take a romantic weekend getaway to try and revive a past she long thought dead. But will they rediscover the love that connected them so long ago or will they accept their differences and separate? An emotionally gripping story, Everlasting Essence captures one woman's struggle to find her true identity while reconciling her past with her future.

Gabriella's Return Patricia I I Catuto, 2016-02-11 Gabriella's Return is a story about Gabriella Verducci and Marco Marino who were childhood sweethearts, Gabriella met Marco when she was twelve and made a bread delivery to his parent's Restaurant from her parent's Bakery. They became very good friends working in the same neighborhood called "Little Italy" where both their parent's owned their businesses. This was an area in Connecticut of a two mile strip of Italian Businesses where Generations of Italians had settled in the 1800's and families continued for generations after. These were all families who took care of one another so their children all grew up in a loving family community. Gabriella and Marco went all through school together and planned to get married after Marco finished Law School. Gabriella and Marco had been planning their wedding almost since they had met, and the night of their rehearsal dinner had finally arrived. Marco was driving in from New York where he had just gotten a job as an attorney at a Law Firm there. The weather was terribly foggy and rainy but Marco had driven this road many times before over the years. This time Marco would not make it home to his rehearsal dinner, so the marriage that they both had been waiting for since they were very young would never happen. Someone was making sure Marco never made it off that road, his car was hit from behind and driven off the road into the ravine. Now Gabriella and Marco would not get the life together that they had planned and Marco would never get to see his unborn daughter Gia. Gabriella would now have to raise their daughter alone, knowing someone had killed Marco on purpose, She may never know who or why. Did that mean that Gabriella and her child were in danger from this person? At this time all Gabriella could think about was getting away from the tragedy and memories. Everything in Gabriella's life as she had known it had changed and not for the better.

Transverse Disciplines Simone Pflieger,Carrie Smith,2022-08-31 For at least a decade, university foreign language programs have been in decline throughout the English-speaking world. As programs close or are merged into large multi-language departments, disciplines such as German studies find themselves struggling to survive. Transverse Disciplines offers an overview of the current research on the humanities and the academy at large and proposes creative and courageous ideas for the university of the future. Using German studies as a case study, the book examines localized academic work in Australia, Canada, the United Kingdom, and the United States in order to model new ideas for invigorated thinking beyond disciplinary specificity, university communities, and entrenched academic practices. In essays that are theoretical, speculative, experimental, and deeply personal, contributors suggest that German studies might do better to stop trying to protect existing national and disciplinary arrangements. Instead, the discipline should embrace feminist, queer, anti-racist, and decolonial academic practices and commitments, including community-based work, research-creation, and scholar activism. Interrogating the position of researchers, teachers, and administrators inside and outside academia, Transverse Disciplines takes stock of the increasingly tenuous position of the humanities and stakes a claim for the importance of imagining new disciplinary futures within the often restrictive and harmful structures of the academy.

Presumed Incompetent Gabriella Gutiérrez y Muhs, Yolanda Flores Niemann, Carmen G. González, Angela P. Harris, 2012-06-15 Presumed Incompetent is a pathbreaking account of the intersecting roles of race, gender, and class in the working lives of women faculty of color. Through personal narratives and qualitative empirical studies, more than 40 authors expose the daunting challenges faced by academic women of color as they navigate the often hostile terrain of higher education, including hiring, promotion, tenure, and relations with students, colleagues, and administrators. The Letters of Blessed Maria Gabriella with the Notebooks of Mother Pia Gullini Gabriella Sagheddu, 2019-03-01 During her short life as a Cistercian nun in the Italian monastery of Grottaferrata, Blessed Maria Gabriella Sagheddu wrote detailed letters about her life there to her family in Sardinia and to her former parish priest. These letters are collected here, along with notes and letters by and to her abbess, Mother Pia Gullini, OCSO, and M. Pia's notes and recollections about Bl. Gabriella. Also included are letters to M. Pia from Father Benedict Ley, a monk of the English Anglican abbey of Nashdom, regarding the hope for Christian unity.

The Scars You Cannot See Gabriella Ganem, 2021-05-31 Twenty-year old Jackson

Carter has been in the snow since he can remember. He moved to Utah for college specifically to be on one of the best collegiate snowboarding teams in the nation. Highly ranked and very popular, Jackson has it all. That is until Jackson, his twin brother and a couple of friends decide to spend the first week of winter break driving back home to Montrose, Colorado and are hit by an SUV, sending them tumbling down the mountainside in the cold winter weather. The other car only had one survivor, a little girl names Emily, and while everyone in Jackson's car survived, people are dangerously injured. Brooke - the star soccer player and the biochemistry major - helps Jackson and the others to stay stable enough for the time being, but everyone knows they need help, and they need help fast. The cold weather of the mountains has set in, and the snowstorm Colorado was expecting only hints at the other dangers that lie in the forest nearby. With nowhere to go and no way of calling for rescue, the group must rely on their strengths and the few supplies they have to stand a chance. But after they are rescued, Jackson must face reality again, frightened of the snow he once loved, reeling with memories that haunt his thoughts, and forever tied to the group of survivors. Jackson starts to realize that survivor is a funny word. It don't really mean that you're done surviving.

Gabriella's Voice Michael J. Vaughn, 2001-03 Fifty-year-old Bill Harness is on a strange but seemingly benign journey, rambling across the country in an old Pontiac and anonymously leaving large checks with promising young opera singers. His fuel, however, is sorrow, and it isn't until he arrives in Seattle and befriends Gabriella Compton, a phenomenally talented soprano, that he is able to address the three great tragedies of his vocally-gifted family.
