Pakistan's Pathway to the Bomb Mansoor Ahmed, 2022 Mansoor Ahmed's Pakistan's Pathway to the Bomb reveals a new history of Pakistan's nuclear weapons program and the bureaucratic competition that shaped it from its inception in 1956 until the 1998 nuclear tests and beyond. While the enduring security dilemma from India was the chief driver for the country's quest for the bomb, heated domestic rivalries within the country's technocratic community influenced the direction and growth of the nuclear program in equal measure. Ahmed offers a revisionist assessment of the role of Dr. A. Q. Khan, the giant of Pakistan's nuclear program. He reveals the competition between Khan Research Laboratories and the Pakistan Atomic Energy Commission, how A. Q. Khan was able to build a cult of personality that inflated his role in the public mind, and how Khan was able to build a fiefdom largely outside of state control that proliferated nuclear technology abroad. Drawing on elite interviews and previously untapped primary-source documents, this book sheds light on the process by which Pakistan became a nuclear power--

Mastering C++: Foundations, Advancements, and Applications Shams Al Ajrawi, Charity Jennings, Paul Menefee, Wathiq Mansoor, Mansoor Ahmed Alaali, 2024-04-05 Many undergraduate students in computer science, engineering, and related disciplines struggle to master the complexities of the C++ programming language. Existing textbooks often need more depth and breadth to provide a comprehensive understanding, leaving students with fragmented knowledge and hindering their ability to tackle real-world programming challenges effectively. Mastering C++: Foundations, Advancements, and Applications is a compelling solution to this problem, offering a comprehensive and accessible approach to learning C++. With eight carefully structured chapters covering fundamental and advanced topics, the book provides a scaffolded learning experience that guides students from basic concepts to more complex programming techniques. This book's target audience includes undergraduate students, professionals seeking to improve their programming skills, and educators teaching programming courses. By offering a thorough and well-rounded education in C++, this textbook aims to empower students to succeed in their programming endeavors and contribute meaningfully to the field.

A bomb—one of the many “small” bombs that go off seemingly unheralded across the world—detonates in the Delhi marketplace, instantly claiming the lives of the Khurana boys, to the devastation of their parents. Mansoor survives, bearing the physical and psychological effects of the bomb. After a brief stint at university in America, Mansoor returns to Delhi, where his life becomes entangled with the mysterious and charismatic Ayub, a fearless young activist whose own allegiances and beliefs are more malleable than Mansoor could imagine. Woven among the story of the Khuranas and the Ahmeds is the gripping tale of Shockie, a Kashmiri bomb maker who has forsaken his own life for the independence of his homeland. Environmental and Social Cost Modeling of Highway Projects [microform] Mansoor Ahmed Surahyo, 2005 This research thesis presents a unified environmental and social cost model of highway projects. The model identifies potential cost items that can be considered in cost-benefit analysis of highway project. For this research, the cost items are considered from the viewpoint of environmental and social impact, impacted entities, impact sources, and best practices to mitigate the effect. The information is then used to develop an XML (Extensible Markup Language) schema, which can be used to report impacts estimates and to develop data exchange standards. The values of various cost items previously estimated by different researchers and research organizations are also gathered in this study. In addition, three case studies were performed to review the extent of environmental assessment studies. Furthermore, an interactive website is developed, which represents the model, the XML schema, and platform for feedbacks that can be helpful in modifying the model, the schema, and environmental and social cost estimates.

The Rohingya in South Asia Sabyasachi Basu Ray Chaudhury, Ranabir Samaddar, 2018-07-11 The Rohingya of Myanmar are one of the world's most persecuted minority populations without citizenship. After the latest exodus from Myanmar in 2017, there are now more than half a million Rohingya in Bangladesh living in camps, often in conditions of abject poverty, malnutrition and without proper access to shelter or work permits. Some of them are now compelled to take to the seas in perilous journeys to the Southeast Asian countries in search of a better life. They are now asked to go back to Myanmar, but without any promise of citizenship or an end to discrimination. This book looks at the Rohingya in the South Asian region, primarily India and Bangladesh. It explores the broader picture of the historical and political dimensions of the Rohingya crisis, and examines subjects of statelessness, human rights and humanitarian protection of these victims of forced migration. Further, it chronicles the actual process of emergence of a stateless community – the transformation of a national group into a stateless existence without basic rights.
