Fulkrum - Hope Norm Hillman,Norm Skuld,2012-07 Do angels breed? The ¿fallen¿ did, and even the ¿chosen¿ in a time of need. Fulkrum-Hope by Norm Skuld tells the story of two such angels*¿half-breeds* that came into the world before the time of Christ and their journey after. This is an inspiring tale of siblings Brigadoon and Airakeen, two young Gibborim (half mortal, half angel), who came into this world with extraordinary powers. ¿Doon,¿ as he was called, became guardian to Jesus and watched as he grew into a man, many times protecting him behind the scenes. This is a glorious tale of the continuing battle between angels and demons that could well decide the fate of mankind at the end of the world.

European Theatre 1960-1990 (Routledge Revivals) Ralph Yarrow, 2014-10-14 European theatre has been the site of enormous change and struggle since 1960. There have been radical shifts in the nature and understanding of performance, fuelled by increasing cross-cultural and international influence. Theatre has had to fight for its very existence, adapting its methods of operation to survive. European Theatre 1960-1990, first published in 1992, tells that story. The contributors - who in many cases have been theatre practitioners as well as critics - provide a wealth of fascinating information, covering Germany, France, Poland, Italy, Spain and Sweden, as well as Britain. The book offers an historical and descriptive overview of developments across national boundaries, enabling the reader to compare and contrast acting and directing styles, administrative strategies and the relationship between ideology and achievement. Chapters trace the evolution of theatre in all its aspects, including such elements as the end of censorship in many countries, the upsurge in political and personal awareness of the 1960s, shifting patterns of state artistic policy, and the effects on companies, directors, performers and audiences. This book should be of interest to undergraduates, postgraduates and academics of theatre studies.

DeCobray has its hand in everything, including the Lyre XR augmented reality headsets that Stan and his fellow students at Springfield Academy are asked to beta test. At first Stan loves his headset—data on his classmates is at his fingertips, and the Lyre's custom filters make school sort of fun—but then he meets Scarlett, Ichi no Zoro-me, and Julien, and his new friends show him there's a lot more going on behind DeCobray's flashy tech. When several kids go missing at school, Stan and his friends set out to uncover the truth behind the devices.
