Geschwistergeschichten Arlette Schnyder,2013-05-26 Acht Schwestern aus einer Pfarrersfamilie suchten einen Lebensweg als ledige Frauen. Ihre vier Brüder heirateten alle. Diese ungewöhnliche Konstellation eröffnet ein spannendes Stück Familiengeschichte aus der ersten Hälfte des 20. Jahrhunderts. Das Leben als selbständige ledige Frau war zu Beginn des 20. Jahrhunderts eine Ausnahme und galt eher als Unglück denn als gewollt freie Wahl. Die acht Schwestern haben diesen Lebensweg jedoch nicht mangels Alternativen, sondern nach reiflichen Überlegungen eingeschlagen. Das Buch zeigt Handlungsspielräume, die ledigen Frauen in dieser Zeit offen standen und die sie sich in einer sich schnell verändernden Gesellschaft neu zu schaffen wussten. Anhand der Frage, wie die acht Schwestern ledig geblieben sind und welche Rolle dabei ihre vier Brüder spielten, gelingt es der Autorin, ein eigentliches bürgerliches Sittengemälde der ersten Hälfte des 20. Jahrhunderts zu zeichnen. Deutlich sichtbar wird so ein emanzipativer Prozess, der durch das 20. Jahrhundert hindurch unaufhaltsam die Biographien von Frauen veränderte, während sich die Lebentwürfe der Brüder kaum von denjenigen der Vätergeneration unterschied. Die einzigartigen Quellen (Briefe, Tagebücher, Gedichte sowie offizielle Akten) ermöglichen es, den unterschiedlichen Kommunikationswegen und Erinnerungsstrategien des Geschwisternetzwerkes auf der schillernden Grenze zwischen Geschichte und Geschichten zu folgen.

DuMont Reise-Handbuch Reiseführer Languedoc Roussillon Klaus Simon,2014-06-24 p>Für die 2. Auflage des DuMont Reise-Handbuches war Autor Klaus Simon wieder intensiv vor Ort unterwegs. Das Languedoc-Roussillon, Frankreichs ›anderer Süden‹, ist mehr als eine Reise wert. Die wilde Seite dieser Region erlebt man auf den menschenleeren Hochebenen und in den dramatischen Schluchten der Cevennen, jede Menge Kultur bieten die Städte, sei es das römisch geprägte Nîmes oder das moderne und junge Montpellier. Vom wunderschönen Hafenstädtchen Collioure bis in die Festungsstadt Carcassonne, vom römischen Äquadukt Pont du Gard bis zum Cirque de Navacelles, einem natürlichen, fast kreisrunden Talkessel, werden alle sehenswerten Regionen und Städte beschrieben. Zu jedem Kapitel präsentiert eine Doppelseite »Auf einen Blick« die Highlights, die schönsten Routen, aktive Naturerlebnisse und besondere Tipps des Autors. Ort für Ort hat Klaus Simon ausgesuchte Unterkünfte, Restaurants oder Einkaufsadressen zusammengestellt, die in den Cityplänen eingezeichnet sind. Wanderungen erschließen die schönsten Landschaften, beispielsweise das Quellgebiet des Tarn oder die herrliche Umgebung des Pic St-Loup. Viel Wissenswertes über das Languedoc Roussillon, über die Geschichte und Gegenwart oder den Alltag der Menschen, lässt sich in der einführenden Landeskunde wie in den eingestreuten Themenseiten nachlesen. Für eine rasche Orientierung sorgen die detaillierte Extra-Reisekarte im Maßstab 1:300.000, eine Übersichtskarte mit den Highlights sowie 34 Citypläne, Wander- und Routenkarten. /p>

Revolution in Rojava Michael Knapp (Historian),Anja Flach,Ercan Ayboga,2016 Surrounded by enemies including ISIS and hostile Turkish forces, the people in Syria's Rojava region are carving out one of the most radically progressive societies on the planet. Visitors have been astounded by the success of their project, a communally organised democracy which considers women's equality indispensable, has a deep-reaching ecological policies, and rejects reactionary nationalist ideology. This form of organization, labeled democratic confederalism, is both fiercely anti-capitalist and boasts a self-defense capacity which is keeping ISIS from their gates. Drawing on their own firsthand experiences of working and fighting in the region, the authors provide the first detailed account of a revolutionary experiment and a new vision of politics and society in the Middle East and beyond--Back cover.

Urban Ecology Philip James,Ian Douglas,2014-10-30 Urban Ecology: An Introduction seeks to open the reader's mind and eyes to the way in which nature permeates everyday urban living, and how it has to be understood, cared for, and managed in order to make our towns and cities healthier places to visit and in which to live and work. The authors examine how nature can improve our physical and mental health, the air we breathe and the waters we use, as well as boosting our enjoyment of parks and gardens. Urban Ecology sets out the science that underlies the changing natural scene and the tools used to ensure that cities become both capable of adapting to climate change and more beautiful and resilient. The book begins with a discussion of the nature of urban places and the role of nature in towns and cities. Part 1 looks at the context and content of urban ecology, its relationship to other foci of interest within ecology and other environmental sciences, and the character of city landscapes and ecosystems. In Part 2 the authors set out the physical and chemical components of urban ecosystems and ecological processes, including urban weather and climate, urban geomorphology and soils, urban hydrology and urban biogeochemical cycles. In Part 3 urban habitats, urban flora and fauna, and the effects of, deliberate and inadvertent human action on urban biota are examined. Part 4 contains an exploration of the identification and assessment of ecosystem services in urban areas, emphasising economic evaluation, the importance of urban nature for human health and well-being, and restoration ecology and creative conservation. Finally, in Part 5 the tasks for urban ecologists in optimising and sustaining urban ecosystems, providing for nature in cities, adapting to climate change and in developing the urban future in a more sustainable manner are set out. Within the 16 chapters of the book - in which examples from around the world are drawn upon - the authors explore current practice and future alternatives, set out procedures for ecological assessment and evaluation, suggest student activities and discussion topics, provide recommended reading and an extensive bibliography. The book contains more than 150 tables and over 150 photographs and diagrams.

Building from Waste Dirk E. Hebel,Marta H. Wisniewska,Felix Heisel,2014-09-25 "Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, and Recover" is the sustainable guideline that has replaced the "Take, Make, Waste" attitude of the industrial age. Based on their background at the ETH Zurich and the Future Cities Laboratory in Singapore, the authors provide both a conceptual and practical look into materials and products which use waste as a renewable resource. This book introduces an inventory of current projects and building elements, ranging from marketed products, among them façade panels made of straw and self-healing concrete, to advanced research and development like newspaper, wood or jeans denim used as isolating fibres. Going beyond the mere recycling aspect of reused materials, it looks into innovative concepts of how materials usually regarded as waste can be processed into new construction elements. The products are organized along the manufacturing processes: densified, reconfigured, transformed, designed and cultivated materials. A product directory presents all materials and projects in this book according to their functional uses in construction: load-bearing, self-supporting, insulating, waterproofing and finishing products.

When Modern Was Green David Haney, 2010 Using Leberecht Migge (modernist landscape architect) as a base, Haney creates a comprehensive history of German ecological design. Linking with modern ideas of green design, this is a unique look at how one man changed the way planning could unite house and garden.

The Economics of Ecosystems and Biodiversity in National and International Policy Making Patrick ten Brink, 2012-09-10 The Economics of Ecosystems and Biodiversity (TEEB) study is a major international initiative drawing attention to local, national and global economic benefits of biodiversity, to highlight the growing costs of biodiversity loss and ecosystem degradation, the benefits of investing in natural capital, and to draw together expertise from the fields of science, economics and policy to enable practical actions. Drawing on a team of more than one hundred authors and reviewers, this book demonstrates the value of ecosystems and biodiversity to the economy, society and individuals. It underlines the urgency of strategic policy making and action at national and international levels, and presents a rich evidence base of policies and instruments in use around the world and a wide range of innovative solutions. It highlights the need for new public policy to reflect the appreciation that public goods and social benefits are often overlooked and that we need a transition to decision making which integrates the many values of nature across policy sectors. It explores the range of instruments to reward those offering ecosystem service benefits, such as water provision and climate regulation. It looks at fiscal and regulatory instruments to reduce the incentives of those running down our natural capital, and at reforming subsidies such that they respond to current and future priorities. The authors also consider two major areas of investment in natural capital - protected areas and investment in restoration. Overall the book underlines the needs and ways to transform our approach to natural capital, and demonstrates how we can practically take into account the value of ecosystems and biodiversity in policy decisions - at national and international levels - to promote the protection of our environment and contribute to a sustainable economy and to the wellbeing of societies.
