Cavalier King Charles Spaniel and English Cocker Spaniel Roland Berger,2023-03-16 The Cavalier King Charles and also the English Cocker Spaniel are dogs of English origin. Probably, they also share in some way the origin of the respective breed. However, while one Spaniel was then as now only active as a companion dog and has no hunting ambitions, the other Spaniel is still on the move as an extremely good hunting dog. However, both breeds are becoming more and more popular, even as family dogs. This is not surprising, because these spaniels have a particularly beautiful external appearance, which is fascinating for many people. The small Cavalier is a dog for everyone. He feels comfortable in any environment as long as he gets enough exercise. The Cocker Spaniel needs appropriate activity simply because of his hunting instinct, but is therefore no less suitable for beginners. The contents of the book are: - The two Spaniel dog breeds - Education of a Spaniel - Health and nutrition - The dog care - Character, training and much more - Many illustrations In this guide you will learn a lot of interesting facts about both breeds. The keeping of these dogs will be revealed to you and you will get information about nutrition and possible diseases. Further chapters are dedicated to education and socialization, because one is not possible without the other. Be inspired by the ways you can build a mutual and unconditional trust and thus get a strong bond with your four-legged friend. Have fun reading.

Whippet Roland Berger,2022-04-14 There are numerous breeds of greyhounds in the world and you are interested in a whippet. This dog is an exceptionally good athlete and its attitude and employment should be oriented accordingly. So, it might present you with some challenges. Also, you should keep in mind that a Whippet is a hunting dog and therefore it will need special training, for which you will have to spend a lot of time and patience. The hunting and hounding instinct is innate in this breed and cannot and should not be easily suppressed. A greyhound is born to run. You should definitely keep this in mind when keeping one. This book is designed to make it as easy as possible for you to handle a Whippet and to give you tips. The contents of the book are therefore as follows: - The history to the greyhound - Character and nature of the Whippet - Nutrition, attitude and education - Recognizing important diseases - Meaningful activity The informations hopefully helped you to make a decision for or against a Whippet. Have fun reading and learning.

Fiji and Me Carol Phillips,2012-10-29 Chicago was my home town, but I grew up in Green Bay, Wisconsin. We all loved those Packers. I went back to Chicago to study nursing. This was during WWII, when we all wanted to help in the war to end wars. What I had wanted to be was an English professor so I could read and write all the time. I found that nursing was a magic carpet in many ways. I married a doctor from North Carolina. We moved to Southern Pines and I was glad to raise my six children in a place where the winter wasn't nine months long. My first vision of North Carolina was in April. Everything was in full bloom and I remember feeling that I had died and gone to heaven. People have said that it must have been difficult to have six children, but my memories are of enjoying it-- most of the time. My husband's midlife crisis ended our marriage. At forty five, I went back to college to finish a graduate degree. I began a career in nursing which included teaching. My writing during my nursing career had more to do with work sheets and constructing tests than fun. I did enjoy writing long letters to my children and grandchildren as they came along. In those days people wrote letters. I have always loved to travel. When an opportunity came to circumnavigate the globe with a friend, I took it. We spent a wonderful month in Japan, Thailand, Nepal, India, Dubai, UK and Canada before returning. I remember well how grateful I was to be home in the US. I'd heard about people kissing the soil of their homeland and I understood. I married a former Duke art professor who had decided to paint full time. He said he would find a place where a nurse and an artist could live happily. He found Key West. I rented my house, packed my car and started driving down the Keys. When I got there I found a houseboat named Miss Maggie and we lived on her. It was a real adventure for me. I worked in a mental health clinic and met some of the unusual people who inhabit Key West. A lot of stories were there to tell. After a year my story didn't include the artist. I returned to North Carolina and went back to Duke Medical Center where I was head nurse of the Family Medicine Center. Residents were there learning to be family docs, something I admired. After three years, I found myself ready for a change. My children were all self-sufficient. I met a Peace Corps recruiter at a party and when I found I could go to Fiji I said, Yes, please don't give that place to anyone else. It was a wonderful two years of my life. I loved the people and the beauty everywhere. I taught a bit and learned a lot. One of the things I learned in Fiji was what they called diridiri. It meant slow down and enjoy the moment. When I returned I went back to Duke to work in psychiatry, but never full time. I arranged my work so I could take classes at the Duke school for older people, now called OLLI. I also facilitated classes on Reading Shakespeare and Great Books. I taught English as a second language at our library. Doing these things, slow and easy, gave me joy. OLLI gave me more than a place to teach and learn. A classmate, Mal, and I shared a number of classes. Finally we decided to share life. Mal and I traveled to many places. He had been in the diplomatic service and knew Europe well, so I got to see some special places off the beaten path. He left for heaven on a train in Budapest after saying that our three week river cruise had been the happiest time of his life. Now, I live in a wonderful village called the Forest. I enjoy reading, writing, a bit of bridge, friends and family. This family now includes my four wonderful children, ten grandchildren with spouses, and twenty great grandchildren. Life is good

Cavalier King Charles Spaniel & Cocker Spaniel Roland Berger,2023-03-14 Cavalier King Charles Spaniel & English Cocker Spaniel: Der Adel und der Jäger Der Cavalier King Charles und auch der English Cocker Spaniel sind Hunde englischen Ursprungs. Wahrscheinlich teilen sie sich auch in gewisser Weise die Entstehung der jeweiligen Rasse. Während der eine Spaniel damals wie heute jedoch nur als Begleithund tätig ist und über keinerlei Jagdambitionen verfügt, ist der andere Spaniel immer noch als ein ausgesprochen guter Jagdhund unterwegs. Beide Rassen erfreuen sich aber immer mehr Beliebtheit, auch als Familienhund. Das ist auch nicht verwunderlich, denn diese Spaniels verfügen über ein besonders schönes äußeres Erscheinungsbild, was für viele Menschen faszinierend ist. Der kleine Cavalier ist ein Hund für jedermann. Er fühlt sich in jeder Umgebung wohl, solange er ausreichend Bewegung erhält. Der Cocker Spaniel braucht schon allein wegen seines Jagdtriebes eine entsprechende Beschäftigung, ist deshalb aber nicht minder für Anfänger geeignet. Der Inhalt des Buchs lautet: - Die beiden Spaniel Hunderassen - Erziehung eines Spaniels - Gesundheit und Ernährung - Die Hundepflege - Charakter, Training und vieles mehr - Viele Abbildungen In diesem Ratgeber erfahren Sie viel Wissenswertes über beide Rassen. Ihnen wird die Haltung dieser Hunde offengelegt und Sie bekommen Informationen über die Ernährung und mögliche Erkrankungen. Der Erziehung und der Sozialisierung sind weitere Kapitel gewidmet, denn das eine ist ohne das andere nicht möglich. Lassen Sie sich inspirieren von den Möglichkeiten, wie Sie ein gegenseitiges und bedingungsloses Vertrauen aufbauen können und somit eine starke Bindung zu Ihrem Vierbeiner bekommen. Viel Spaß beim Lesen.

A Drop of Gold Vlasta Van Kampen, 2001 The story of how birds got their colors, beautifully told by Vlasta van Kampen through her vibrant watercolor illustrations. When Mother Nature first creates the world, the birds are colorless. Soon all the birds assemble and monkeys paint them, making each one beautiful and unique. When they are finished, there is a wonderful celebration. Into the middle of the festivities flies one small bird. He has got lost on his way and arrives to discover there are only two pots of paint left—one with a drop of brown and the other with a drop of gold. The duck has a wonderful idea. Into the little bird's mouth she lets fall a single drop of gold paint. When the little bird opens his mouth, out comes the sweetest sound!
