International Standard Classification of Occupations International Labour Office,2012 The International Standard Classification of Occupations 2008 (ISCO-08) is a four-level hierarchically structured classification that covers all jobs in the world. Developed with the benefit of accumulated national and international experience as well as the help of experts from many countries and agencies, ISCO-08 is fully supported by the international community as an accepted standard for international labour statistics. ISCO-08 classifies jobs into 436 unit groups. These unit groups are aggregated into 130 minor groups, 43 sub-major groups and 10 major groups, based on their similarity in terms of the skill level and skill specialisation required for the jobs. This allows the production of relatively detailed internationally comparable data as well as summary information for only 10 groups at the highest level of aggregation. Each group in the classification is designated by a title and code number and is associated with a definition that specifies the scope of the group. The classification is divided into two volumes: Volume I presents the structure and definitions of all groups in ISCO-08 and their correspondence with ISCO-88, which it supersedes, while Volume II provides an updated and expanded index of occupational titles and associated ISCO-08 and ISCO-88 codes.

Machine Learning for Face, Emotion, and Pain Recognition Gholamreza Anbarjafari, Jelena Gorbova, Rain Eric Hammer, Pejman Rasti, Fatemeh Noroozi, 2018 This Spotlight explains how to build an automated system for face, emotion, and pain recognition. These steps include pre-processing, face detection and segmentation, feature extraction, and finally and most importantly, recognition to classify features and show the accuracy of the system. State-of-the-art algorithms are used to describe all possible solutions of each step. Pre-processing involves algorithms to reduce noise and improve the illumination of images. For face detection and segmentation, several approaches are described to detect a face in images: Viola-Jones, color-based approaches, histogram-based approaches, and morphological operation. Local binary patterns, edge detectors, wavelets, discrete Cosine transformation, Gabor filters, and fuzzified features are used for feature extraction. The last step includes three approaches for recognition: classification techniques (with a special focus on deep learning), statistical modeling, and distance/similarity measures.

The 12 O'Clock High Logbook Allan T. Duffin,Paul Matheis,2005-09-30 Since its original release The 12 O'Clock High Logbook: The Unofficial History of the Novel, Motion Picture, and TV Series has been a consistent seller among WWII buffs, lovers of aviation, and fans of Hollywood TV and movies. The book, a labor of love for co-authors Allan T. Duffin and Paul Matheis, is a detailed, comprehensive look at a media phenomenon. Army Air Force officers Beirne Lay, Jr., and Sy Bartlett wrote the novel 12 O'Clock High as a somewhat fictionalized record of their experiences in England during World War II. Twentieth Century-Fox optioned the book and produced the 1949 movie version starring Gregory Peck as tough-as-nails Brigadier General Frank Savage. In 1964, prolific producer Quinn Martin (The Untouchables, The FBI) brought 12 O'Clock High to television as a weekly series on ABC, starring Robert Lansing as Savage. Packed with fresh interviews, rare photographs, and behind-the-scenes stories published for the first time anywhere, The 12 O'Clock High Logbook is the definitive history of this unique tale of heroism in World War II.

Law and the Semantic Web V. Richard Benjamins,Pompeu Casanovas,Joost Breuker,Aldo Gangemi,2005-02-09 by Roberto Cencioni At the Lisbon Summit in March 2000, European heads of state and government set a new goal for the European Union – to become the most competitive knowled- based society in the world by 2010. As part of this objective, ICT (information and communication technologies) services should become available for every citizen, and for all schools, homes and businesses. The book you have in front of you is about Semantic Web technology and law. Law is something omnipresent; all citizens – at some points in their lives – have to deal with it. In addition, law involves a large group of professionals, and is a mul- billion business world wide. Information technology is important because it that can improve citizens' interaction with law, as well as improve legal professionals' work environment. Legal professionals dedicate a significant amount of their time to finding, reading, analyzing and synthesizing information in order to take decisions, and prepare advice and trials, among other tasks. As part of the "Semantic-Based Knowledge and Content Systems" Strategic Objective, the European Commission is funding projects to construct technology to make the Semantic Web vision come true. 1 The articles in this book are related to two current foci of the Strategic Objective : • Knowledge acquisition and modelling, capturing knowledge from raw information and multimedia content in webs and other distributed repositories to turn poorly structured information into machi- processable knowledge.
