Smart Energy Strategies ,2008 The enormous challenge of creating a longterm sustainable energy system calls for the participation of engineers, natural and social scientists. They can contribute both through their research and by helping to craft strategies that steer the future development of the system. A sustainable energy system cannot be developed by technical fixes alone; action is required on a broad front, including institutional and regulatory changes. There is an abundance of scientific evidence on which to base decisions on how to proceed. Still, research has a crucial role to play as well.Smart Energy Strategies highlights smart solutions: advances in technical and social-science energy research, particularly advances related to new information technology (e.g. control and communication); and experience with targeted applications of information technology in the supply and consumption of energy. The conference has focused on smart strategies taking into account current technical and institutional systems, with their inertia and shortcomings; future energy-related challenges: energy security; the growing energy needs of the disadvantaged; and unintended consequences of energy systems, particularly climate change but also uncontrolled money flows; smart technical, institutional, and regulatory mechanisms for meeting these challenges.

Green Solvents for Chemistry William M. Environmental Engineering Dictionary and Directory Thomas M. Pankratz, 2000-09-22 Like most technical disciplines, environmental science and engineering is becoming increasingly specialized. As industry professionals focus on specific environmental subjects they become less familiar with environmental problems and solutions outside their area of expertise. This situation is compounded by the fact that many environmental science related terms are confusing. Prefixes such as bio-, enviro-, hydra-, and hydro- are used so frequently that it is often hard to tell the words apart. The Environmental Engineering Dictionary and Directory gives you a complete list of brand terms, brand names, and trademarks - right at your fingertips.

The Strategic Assessment Model Steve Glazner, 1999 This book presents six papers focusing on the application of the strategic assessment model (SAM) to the management of higher education facilities. The papers are part of an ongoing effort by the Association of Higher Education Facilities Officers to provide comparative cost and staffing information and to develop a benchmarking process. The papers explain the origins of SAM, the core competencies related to facilities management, and how these can be affected by SAM. The papers also relate SAM to the Baldrige National Recognition standard and suggest ways of using SAM as a management tool. Following an introduction by Douglas K. Christensen, the individual chapters are: (1) Understanding the Strategic Assessment Model (Margaret P. Kinnaman); (2) Linking the Balanced Scorecard to Your Strategy (Jack Hug); (3) APPA's Four Core Competencies (Gary L. Reynolds); (4) More Than a Feeling: Deployment of SAM within Baldrige (Tom Harkenrider); (5) What Is Benchmarking? (Mohammad H. Qayoumi); and (6) Conclusions: Where Do We Go from Here? (Margaret P. Kinnaman). Appendixes include: SAM Survey Results (Laura Long); a list of institutions responding to the SAM survey; the original SAM metrics and definitions; and The Formal Benchmarking Process (Mohammad H. Qayoumi). (Contains 62 references.) (DB)

America's Children and the Environment U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, 2017-05-31 America's Children and the Environment (ACE) is EPA's report presenting data on children's environmental health. ACE brings together information from a variety of sources to provide national indicators in the following areas: Environments and Contaminants, Biomonitoring, and Health. Environments and Contaminants indicators describe conditions in the environment, such as levels of air pollution. Biomonitoring indicators include contaminants measured in the bodies of children and women of child-bearing age, such as children's blood lead levels. Health indicators report the rates at which selected health outcomes occur among U.S. children, such as the annual percentage of children who currently have asthma. Accompanying each indicator is text discussing the relevance of the issue to children's environmental health and describing the data used in preparing the indicator. Wherever possible, the indicators are based on data sources that are updated in a consistent manner, so that indicator values may be compared over time.
