Victimology Lorraine Wolhuter, Neil Olley, David Denham, 2008-07-11 How should the needs of victims of crime be met by the criminal justice system? Have the rights of victims been neglected in order to ensure that a defendant is brought to 'justice'? Who are the victims of crime and why are they targeted? This new book examines the theoretical arguments concerning victimization before examining who victims actually are and the measures taken by the criminal justice system to enhance their position. Particular attention is paid to the victimization of women, LGBT persons, minority ethnic persons and the elderly. The book engages in a detailed exposition of the law's response to such victimization, focusing on the measures adopted in international human rights law, by the Council of Europe, and in English law and policy. It also assesses alternative models of victim participation in criminal proceedings in European jurisdictions such as Germany, Sweden and the Netherlands. Adopting an interdisciplinary approach which encompasses law, criminology and social policy, the book is ideal for undergraduates taking an option in victimology, race and crime, or gender and crime, whatever their disciplinary background.

SEX and CIRCUMCISION Eric Clopper, 2019-04-22 On May 1, 2018, Eric Clopper premiered his one-man play 'Sex & Circumcision: An American Love Story' at Harvard University. This book contains the entire transcript of the play, annotated with additional lines and pictures throughout. In the book-version of Clopper's performance, he takes you through what he dubs Clopper's Five Censored Facts. You get a crash course in Judaic and American history surrounding circumcision, understand the true functions and value of the foreskin, and then he eviscerates the credibility of America's scientific and media communities, exposing the dark ideology that underpins so many of our once-trusted American institutions. The show climaxes in an unapologetic declaration of war on baby mutilation and those who dare perpetuate it and ends with an impassioned appeal to the one thing we all have in common: our shared humanity. Harvard University stoked their book-burning flames with their own free speech policy immediately following the show's public release. Within 24 hours of the online release of Clopper's show, Harvard fired Clopper for his performance despite his show's incredible reception within the Harvard community and online. Now you can read the show they don't want you to see in paperback format. Enjoy.

Life at Maripaston Johannes King, 2014-10-20 The Matawai Maroon Johannes King (ca. 1830-1898) taught himself to read and write at an advanced age. He wanted to bridge the gap between the generations by publishing his Book of Horrors (Skrekiboekoe) and the present book which has been given the title Life at Maripaston. King wanted to explain the root of the problems between him and his elder brother, Chief Noah Andrai, representatives respectively of the church and the state at the village level. King wanted to justify his life in the eyes of the church, the EBG-Moravian Brethren, and his fellow Maroons. This book is an important contribution to the church history of Suriname, yet also offers insights into the history of the Maroon communities in Suriname. This book is one of the first original works in Sranantongo.

Guinea-pig Paul Marlee, 1990 A novel of displacement in which a wandering, Surinamese finds himself in New York, Puerto Rico, and Europe, displaced by the environment yet, unable to commit himself to radical change, questing for the self that is unable to cope with, the corruption and class consciousness of his, native country. Riddled by the hypocrisy of the West, he curses both God and the Devil.
