The Oceanic Languages Donald MacDonald,1907 The main purpose of the book is to describe the Efate language. Coraline Neil Gaiman,2008-01-01 A brilliant graphic novel adaptation of Neil Gaiman's critically acclaimed novel for young people. When Coraline moves to a new home, she is fascinated by the fact that the 'house' is really only half a house - it was divided into flats years before. And it soon becomes clear to Coraline that the other flat is not quite as cosy and safe as her own.

Swimming Horses Mal Pelo (Dance company),2013 Mal Pelo is a group founded by Pep Ramis and Maria Munoz in 1989, dedicated to the creation and exhibition of performances. Their artistic work, based on the constant search for languages, combines movement, video, text and original music. Their exhibition proposals as well as their video creations and publications are equally important. With an extensive national and international career, the works of Mal Pero are acknowledged by the critics and the public and have been awarded with different prizes. 'Swimming Horses' is a book that emerged from the desire to review the elements that have accompanied the creations of Mal Pelo throughout the past twelve years. On one side it presents the photographs of Jordi Bover, which, as well as the visual force and depth they contain, enable different aspects of the work to be observed: The movement, the use of objects, the lighting, the gestures and presence, the tensions of the space and some of his own codes and tools. On the other side it presents the voices of the people who have followed the evolution of the group, their precise view on the way in which Mal Pelo inhabits the scene and constructs a fragmented dramaturgy that goes hand-in-hand with the different languages and the strength of the performers. Contributions from Ric Allsopp, John Berger, Eulalia Bosch, Leo Castro, Imma Merino, Maria Munoz, Imma Prieto, Pep Ramis, Ixiar Rozas, Jose Sanchez. 200 colour
