OECD

European Competition Law Annual 2006 Claus-Dieter Ehlermann, Isabela Atanasiu, 2007-11-16 This is the eleventh in the series on EU Competition Law and Policy produced by the Robert Schuman Centre of the European University Institute in Florence. The volume reproduces the materials of the roundtable debate which examined the enforcement of the prohibition on cartels. The workshop participants - senior representatives of the Commission and the national competition authorities of some EC Member States, renowned international academics and legal practitioners - discussed the economic and legal issues that arise in this particular area, including: 1) unearthing cartels: the evidence; 2) the institutional framework and 3) tools of enforcement.

Health at a Glance 2021 OECD Indicators OECD, 2021-11-09 Health at a Glance provides a comprehensive set of indicators on population health and health system performance across OECD members and key emerging economies. This edition has a special focus on the health impact of COVID-19 in OECD countries, including deaths and illness caused by the virus, adverse effects on access and quality of care, and the growing burden of mental ill-health.

OECD Health Policy Studies Cardiovascular Disease and Diabetes: Policies for Better Health and Quality of Care OECD, 2015-06-17 This report examines how countries perform in their ability to prevent, manage and treat cardiovascular disease (CVD) and diabetes.

Cases, Materials and Text on National, Supranational and International Non-Discrimination Law Dagmar Schiek, Lisa Waddington, Mark Bell, Tufyal Choudhury, Olivier De Schutter, Janneke Gerards, Aileen McColgan KC, Gay Moon, 2007-08-31 This casebook, the result of the collaborative efforts of a panel of experts from various EU Member States, is the latest in the Ius Commune Casebook series developed at the Universities of Maastricht and Leuven. The book provides a comprehensive and skilfully designed resource for students, practitioners, researchers, public officials, NGOs, consumer organisations and the judiciary. In common with earlier books in the series, this casebook presents cases and other materials (legislative materials, international and European materials, excerpts from books or articles). As non-discrimination law is a comparatively new subject, the chapters search for and develop the concepts of discrimination law on the basis of a wide variety of young and often still emerging case law and legislation. The result is a comprehensive textbook with materials from a wide variety of EU Member States. The book is entirely in English (i.e. materials are translated where not available in English). At the end of each chapter a comparative overview ties the material together, with emphasis, where appropriate, on existing or emerging general principles in the legal systems within Europe. The book illustrates the distinct relationship between international, European and national legislation in the field of non-discrimination law. It covers the grounds of discrimination addressed in the Racial Equality and Employment Equality Directives, as well as non-discrimination law relating to gender. In so doing, it covers the law of a large number of EU Member States, alongside some international comparisons. The Ius Commune Casebook on Non-Discrimination Law - provides practitioners with ready access to primary and secondary legal material needed to assist them in crafting test case strategies. - provides the judiciary with the tools needed to respond sensitively to such cases. - provides material for teaching non-discrimination law to law and other students. - provides a basis for ongoing research on non-discrimination law. - provides an up-to-date overview of the implementation of the Directives and of the state of the law. This Casebook is the result of a project which has been supported by a grant from the European Commission's Anti-Discrimination Programme. See the detailed website for this book: www.casebooks.eu/nonDiscrimination/.

Labour Dispute Resolution John Brand, 2008 This second edition contains a new section on dispute resolution in the public sector.

Realising Administrative Justice Hugh Corder, Linda Van de Vijver, 2002 After more than a decade of renewal of South African administrative law in its constitutional and statutory form, the time has come to ensure implementation of the ideals enshrined in the legislation through the public administration. The papers contained in this title focus on the issue and represent the views of some of the key participants in that reform process. They provide an overview of the context in which this reform has taken place, as well as of the interaction between common law, statutory law and the constitution in this field. In addition, various perspectives on administrative justice are expounded, and implementation and training strategies are examined.

The New Constitutional and Administrative Law: Administrative law Iain Currie, Cora Hoexter, 2001 Of interest to academics, students, legal practitioners

Administrative Law David J. Mullan, 2001 Administrative law probably touches each of us as citizens in more ways than any other area of law. It is the body of law that ensures that governments (and government officials) deal with us in a manner that is both lawful and fair. It governs the myriad of relationships that we, as citizens, have with our governments at every turn, from our dealings with Revenue Canada, to the application for a municipal building permit. David Mullan is one of Canada's leading scholars in the area of administrative law. His book not only provides a clear overview and analysis of this important field, it also explores the complex issues involved in balancing effective and efficient government with the protection of individual interests and concerns.
