The Sirens of Wartime Radio and How the American Print Media Presented Them Scott A. Morton,2020-10-05 The Sirens of Wartime Radio and How the American Print Media Presented Them: The Stories, the Intrigue, and the Evolving Coverage of Their Legacies analyzes press coverage from the American print media that helped construct popular images of Tokyo Rose, Axis Sally, Seoul City Sue, and Hanoi Hannah. Coverage of these “radio sirens” essentially constructed and defined these women’s legacies for an American audience. Scott A. Morton examines newspaper and magazine coverage from the periods of each broadcaster, and in doing so, analyzes four primary research inquiries. Morton discusses how American newspapers and magazines portrayed each woman to American readers, how the American mass media’s portrayal of them evolved overtime from the mid-1940s through the present, the ways in which the American mass media responded to these five female propagandists—either directly or indirectly—through print, radio, and visual media, and how the legacy of each woman has been kept alive in popular culture in the decades since their last broadcasts. Morton argues that for the most part, coverage of the sirens was borne out of fascination and aversion, fascination stemming from the novelty of women acting as high-profile agents of enemy propaganda organizations and aversion stemming from the potential power they had over U.S. servicemen and the fact that they were viewed as traitors to the U.S. Scholars of media studies, history, and international relations will find this book particularly useful.

The 1966 Green Bay Packers George Bozeka,2016-06-21 The 1966 Green Bay Packers were one of the greatest teams in professional football history. Led by legendary head coach Vince Lombardi and 10 future Hall of Famers—including Bart Starr, Jim Taylor, Forrest Gregg, Willie Davis and Ray Nitschke—they were the decisive winners of Super Bowl I, defeating the Kansas City Chiefs and upholding the superiority of the National Football League over the upstart American Football League. This book tells the story of the hard-working '66 Packers on the gridiron and their legacy in Tittletown, USA.

The Geography of Risk Gilbert M. Gaul,2019-09-03 This century has seen the costliest hurricanes in U.S. history—but who bears the brunt of these monster storms? Consider this: Five of the most expensive hurricanes in history have made landfall since 2005: Katrina ($160 billion), Ike ($40 billion), Sandy ($72 billion), Harvey ($125 billion), and Maria ($90 billion). With more property than ever in harm’s way, and the planet and oceans warming dangerously, it won’t be long before we see a $250 billion hurricane. Why? Because Americans have built $3 trillion worth of property in some of the riskiest places on earth: barrier islands and coastal floodplains. And they have been encouraged to do so by what Gilbert M. Gaul reveals in The Geography of Risk to be a confounding array of federal subsidies, tax breaks, low-interest loans, grants, and government flood insurance that shift the risk of life at the beach from private investors to public taxpayers, radically distorting common notions of risk. These federal incentives, Gaul argues, have resulted in one of the worst planning failures in American history, and the costs to taxpayers are reaching unsustainable levels. We have become responsible for a shocking array of coastal amenities: new roads, bridges, buildings, streetlights, tennis courts, marinas, gazebos, and even spoiled food after hurricanes. The Geography of Risk will forever change the way you think about the coasts, from the clash between economic interests and nature, to the heated politics of regulators and developers.

The Vietnam War in Popular Culture Ron Milam,2016-11-07 Covering many aspects of the Vietnam War that have not been addressed before, this book supplies new perspectives from academics as well as Vietnam veterans that explore how this key conflict of the 20th century has influenced everyday life and popular culture during the war as well as for the past 50 years. How did the experience of the Vietnam War change the United States, not just in the 1950s through the 1970s, but through to today? What role do popular music and movies play in how we think of the Vietnam War? How similar are the recent wars in Iraq and Afghanistan—and now Syria—to the Vietnam War in terms of duration, cost, success and failure rates, and veteran issues? This two-volume set addresses these questions and many more, examining how the Vietnam War has been represented in media, music, and film, and how American popular culture changed because of the war. Accessibly written and appropriate for students and general readers, this work documents how the war that occurred on the other side of the globe in the jungles of Vietnam impacted everyday life in the United States and influenced various entertainment modes. It not only covers the impact of the counterculture revolution, popular music about Vietnam recorded while the war was being fought (and after), and films made immediately following the end of the war in the 1970s, but also draws connections to more modern events and popular culture expressions, such as films made in the aftermath of September 11, 2001. Attention is paid to the impact of social movements like the environmental movement and the civil rights movement and their relationships to the Vietnam War. The set will also highlight how the experiences and events of the Vietnam War are still impacting current generations through television shows such as Mad Men.

Living in Christ Stephen W. Hiemstra,2020-04-20 Our journey in Christian ethics starts with God in whose image we are created. Creation begins with birth and continues as we mature. Our character matures, shaped by the example of Christ under the mentorship of the Holy Spirit through the family and the church. Christian leaders reach full maturity once they are able to mentor others—we are blessed to be a blessing. Living in Christ focuses on explaining, not justifying, Christian ethics. At a time and in a place where people scoff at developing a theological understanding of their faith and refuse to teach Christian morality, ethics is almost a lost art. At the heart of the ethical dilemma is a tension between theological principles that can only be resolved by the guidance of the Holy Spirit. How do you practice forgiveness for sinners who refuse to confess their sin and force you to bear its consequences? In this context, ethics is less a philosophical discipline than a recognition of our own limitations as Christians and the need for divine intervention. Ethical thought and action always involve interpretation under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. It is thus ironic that a book on Christian living should have an outward focus on God rather than an inward focus on what to do and not do. This interpretative element colors how we view character formation, the community of faith, leadership, and the many special issues that arise in daily life. Hear the words; walk the steps; experience the joy!

Bob Dylan and Leonard Cohen David Boucher,Lucy Boucher,2021-04-08 Both Dylan and Cohen have been a presence on the music and poetry landscape spanning six decades. This book begins with a discussion of their contemporary importance, and how they have sustained their enduring appeal as performers and recording artists. The authors argue that both Dylan and Cohen shared early aspirations that mirrored the Beat Generation. They sought to achieve the fame of Dylan Thomas, who proved a bohemian poet could thrive outside the academy, and to live his life of unconditional social irresponsibility. While Dylan's and Cohen's fame fluctuated over the decades, it was sustained by self-consciously adopted personas used to distance themselves from their public selves. This separation of self requires an exploration of the artists' relation to religion as an avenue to find and preserve inner identity. The relationship between their lyrics and poetry is explored in the context of Federico García Lorca's concept of the poetry of inspiration and the emotional depths of 'duende.' Such ideas draw upon the dislocation of the mind and the liberation of the senses that so struck Dylan and Cohen when they first read the poetry and letters of Arthur Rimbaud and Lorca. The authors show that performance and the poetry are integral, and the 'duende,' or passion, of the delivery, is inseparable from the lyric or poetry, and common to Dylan, Cohen and the Beat Generation.

Pretext for Mass Murder John Roosa, 2006-08-03 In the early morning hours of October 1, 1965, a group calling itself the September 30th Movement kidnapped and executed six generals of the Indonesian army, including its highest commander. The group claimed that it was attempting to preempt a coup, but it was quickly defeated as the senior surviving general, Haji Mohammad Suharto, drove the movement's partisans out of Jakarta. Riding the crest of mass violence, Suharto blamed the Communist Party of Indonesia for masterminding the movement and used the emergency as a pretext for gradually eroding President Sukarno's powers and installing himself as a ruler. Imprisoning and killing hundreds of thousands of alleged communists over the next year, Suharto remade the events of October 1, 1965 into the central event of modern Indonesian history and the cornerstone of his thirty-two-year dictatorship. Despite its importance as a trigger for one of the twentieth century's worst cases of mass violence, the September 30th Movement has remained shrouded in uncertainty. Who actually masterminded it? What did they hope to achieve? Why did they fail so miserably? And what was the movement's connection to international Cold War politics? In Pretext for Mass Murder, John Roosa draws on a wealth of new primary source material to suggest a solution to the mystery behind the movement and the enabling myth of Suharto's repressive regime. His book is a remarkable feat of historical investigation. Finalist, Social Sciences Book Award, the International Convention of Asian Scholars

The Symbols of the Constructor DIEGO KURILO, The people of the book, as the natives of Harran in Turkey are called, believed that the number 3 did not exist, and that God in an act of desperation for not being able to look at him had to create it, to pretend his face on it. The temple, the center of the Latin city, was the first thing that the urban layout evoked, the focal point of it, in its plinth or herma, all the golden pathways ended, like rays of sun that emerged from this cubic center, eternal rest of the hero and of the bird of augur, Rutilo Namaciano sang his beautiful hymn: You made of the various homelands, a City you made of which was only an orb. Rome, common homeland exclaims Seneca, is by far the model of the science of architecture and the apotheosis of the geometer. Much of the symbolism of ancient temples can be found in Rome in the architectural figure of the Templum, which occupied the center of the city and in the Greek model of a temple that predates Rome, the Megarón, these architectural boxes fulfilled in themselves the routine of axiality to crown the cadence of the solar arc, of time these temples will share part of the science of light and the day arc, as well as a common metric whose language is the module of architecture, where the number becomes flesh and body architectural. The Mediterranean temples of Phenicia as well as the Romans and Greek heirs were of all previous science, they bequeathed in the mythical figure of Hiram shooting his numen and this flaunting his knowledge left this world in mudes, leaving the temple of Solomon unfinished. Subsequently, the myth Solomon tells about his megalomania led his father's house to its total destruction.

The Gospel of Arthur Frame DIEGO KURILO, In the Litany of Knowledge, like a continuous recitation on which Arthur Frame bruised an eternal and symmetrical symbol, throbbing to the eye, it resembles a great library with its shelves inside hexagons and octagons, in each of which time behaves like space. , of the same number and numen, of those volumes, I would stay with only one, which influences the rest of the stories of said books in the style of fiat lux, capable of the modification in the permutation that Georg Philipp Cantorun announced so much, in his hypothetical works on specular time and the permutation of ideas and sets. All this evil represents a large group of people, some like books, others like paper, and a silent wait in search of the apotheosis of the Geometer. All the perversions that the imagination proposes were put into our lives by ourselves. Don't play the distracted reader, you were always the architect of the circular city, a ruin where we live and on some occasions waste time. There is no evil there, only oblivion. With something of value it will be difficult to recognize that a labyrinth, a room with a steep staircase and death, were placed there by the need to transmute all action into a body of pure Gold. Arthur Frame's conversation with his friend Jose Argentino. Arthur, how is the Gold product of hermeneutics and geometry traded, I heard that those who wish to obtain the work...? The perfumed and velvety Orichalcum ingots are sold in meat cases whose body is Gold, perhaps with some impurity, Gold that is too pure cannot be traded on the black market, nor can it be touched. The same is true of the Hundred Foot Rainbow Powder, a natural hallucinogen that is both inhaled and taken in menthol infusions, it is produced by the General Wellness Company, in pursuit of the achievement of Epiphany, the Hundred Foot Powder is so powerful that they will hallucinate with extraterrestrial civilizations and pyramids on Mars, as he used to call him and only him, our Lord Jesus, whose theophoric name of Aramaic origin (ܝܫܘܥ Yēšūa - יהושׁע Yehōšūa', means Yah is salvation, the destiny of nations it depends on the liberation of the error that implies the loss of time. Sophia our lady of truth will be a witness and scribe of said apotheosis. There is only one thing that is true and that is... nothing can be said about this. - Jesus our pelican, giver of life, the way and the truth, lord of justice, will reach the end of time with his body as a fish of radiant light and renewed forever, his incorrupt body made flesh and verb will be in us and we in him, our savior, is God, he is the Sun of suns, we will be transformed and we will obtain our body of light and we will be one with him and death will have no place. He will come and reincarnate in his own body forever until freeing the human race from the fatal bandage of error. Until the Exhaustion of all time and the end of numerical and alphabetical permutation, until the last grain of sand of time. Arthur, could you tell us something about the straight path of gold? Yes, of course, that royal road is taken care of as with anything of incalculable value, with the Guarda camino and the police of the transoceanic route, which fundamentally takes care of the route to the bank of silence, in addition to the millions of kilos of gold it produces the earth in its annual temporary rotation, they take care of each other, the great problem of our modernity, is the path of metals with different degrees of purity, that path is the most important for the human race, that the traceability of our information, Even on our care of the natural world, much depends fundamentally on the intra-European economy of money tracking and bank loans. Each link in the chain is paid for in live meat ingots until the world's library is filled. Perhaps of all this, only one meat book will serve, the one that the father put there for our salvation.

Byblos Symbolic Architecture DIEGO KURILO, As all traditional doctrines and philosophies teach, the Universe is a symbolic fact. An Arabic proverb says that everything can be reduced to symbols, except Tufân the breath of fire. It is said that there is, in the first cause, an older source of symbols close to fire and the water of life, a concept close to the Koranic symbolism of water in the Arab world. The symbolic thought of the first Indo-European peoples saw in many deities the manifestation of primal fires and the wellspring of the symbolic, a certain union where the opposites stop showing through the theater of the demonstrations to lose themselves in unity. Man needs to understand what symbolism is, because without this understanding he cannot delve inside and look at yourself, being a central symbol of the earthly, in a universe without scale and time.

The Gnostics and Their Archetypes DIEGO KURILO, 2024-04-08 Gnosis, derived from the ancient Greek γνῶσις (gnôsis), meaning knowledge, or also known as gnosticism, a Latinized form of γνωστικισμός (gnōstikismós), is a scientific-religious term that encompasses various teachings and religious groups that flourished in the late 19th century. 1st century and had their peak between the 2nd and 3rd centuries AD, acting as precursors of later currents. We could think that within these movements of connoisseurs many Christianities of a Gnostic nature perished, since Christianity was born as a broad set of spiritual movements based on the life of Jesus of Nazareth. The Christianity proposed by Paul of Tarsus triumphed and the Gnostic movements fell into disgrace and were considered heretical.

McNamara, 2003 A collection of more than 40 case studies covering diverse topics such as genetic engineering, aesthetics, pollution, animal rights, population, and resource management, Case Studies in Environmental Ethics is intended as a supplemental book for college courses primarily in environmental ethics. Children, Language, and Literacy Celia Genishi, Anne Haas Dyson, 2015-04-18 Synopsis: In their new collaboration, Celia Genishi and Anne Haas Dyson celebrate the genius of young children as they learn language and literacy in the diverse contexts that surround them. Despite burgeoning sociocultural diversity, many early childhood classrooms (pre-K to grade 2) offer a one-size-fits-all curriculum, too often assessed by standardized tests. In contrast, the authors propose diversity as the new norm. They feature stories of children whose language learning is impossible to standardize, and they introduce teachers who do not follow scripts but observe, assess informally, respond to, and grow with their children. Among these children are rapid language learners and those who take their time to become speakers, readers, and writers at child speed. All these learners, regardless of tempo, are often found within the language-rich contexts of play.

The Road More Traveled Sam Staley, Ted Balaker, 2006-09-27 Though often dismissed as a minor if irritating nuisance, congestion's insidious effects constrain our personal and professional lives, making it harder to find a good job, spend time with our family, and maintain profitable businesses. After centuries of building our cities into bustling centers of commerce and culture, we are beginning to slow down. The Road More Traveled shines a new light on the problem of traffic congestion in this easily accessible book. You'll learn how we can reclaim our mobility if we are willing to follow successful examples from overseas, where innovations in infrastructure and privatization have made other nations stronger and more competitive. By thoroughly debunking the myths that keep our policy makers trapped in traffic, the book argues that we can and should build our way out of congestion and into a fast-paced future.

Twentieth Century Guerrilla Movements in Latin America Fernando Herrera Calderón, 2021-07-20 Twentieth Century Guerrilla Movements in Latin America: A Primary Source History collects political writings on human rights, social injustice, class struggle, anti-imperialism, national liberation, and many other topics penned by urban and rural guerrilla movements. In the second half of the twentieth century, Latin America experienced a mass wave of armed revolutionary movements determined to overthrow oppressive regimes and eliminate economic exploitation and social injustices. After years of civil resistance, and having exhausted all peaceful avenues, thousands of working-class people, peasants, professions, intellectuals, clergymen, students, and teachers formed dozens of guerrilla movements. Fernando Herrera Calderón presents important political writings, some translated into English here for the first time, that serve to counteract the government propaganda that often overshadowed the intellectual side of revolutionary endeavors. These texts come from Latin American countries such as Argentina, Bolivia, Colombia, Mexico, Nicaragua, and many more. The book will be indispensable to anyone teaching or studying revolutions in modern Latin American history.

Golden Buda DIEGO KURILO, The sūtra its translation is thread, within Mahayana Buddhism, it could well be a cord of wisdom, a path between suns, a new vision towards a new earth and a new sun, these verses are considered the best of the Prajñāpāramitā scripture, Perfection of Wisdom, real experiences such as Samadhi an ecstasy of emptiness, Emptiness without ego and the sky of seeing all the illusory forms of the reason of our heart arise even Buddhas and avatars, are the epic of the vanishing of the ego into fundamental emptiness, [an infinite and eternal ocean of consciousness], like a silver mirror watch that will be found fragmented, like any fruit that falls when ripe, the universe, a very imprecise way of looking at it, will be found to be , “set of all internal and external mental forms”, represents a form of crystallization where we are deceived, like someone looking in a mirror clouded by the vapor of time where the past could well be the past. future and vice versa is always now and there is only this instant, this tessela runs backwards, we are prisoners of the time that arises from us, when the time that always goes upwards will end, when everything will end”. Let us examine the vicissitudes of a phrase that seems to tell us that it is the mind that colors things, being able to transform phenomena and endow them with a qualitative aspect with unlimited power, in such a way that the nature of things seems to be identical to the nature of mind. A famous expression of this idea comes from the first book of Paradise Lost, where Milton expresses through the fallen angel: The mind is its own place, and in itself Can make a Heaven of Hell, a Hell of Heaven. [The mind is its own place, and can in itself make a heaven out of hell, and a hell out of heaven]. We can read this as an insightful appreciation of the nature of the mind, or as showing Satan's arrogance (or ignorance) that he chooses to rule in hell, which he considers superior to serving in heaven. It is said that there is, in the first cause, an older source of symbols close to the fire and the water of life, a concept close to the Qur'anic symbolism of water in the Arab world. The symbolic thought of the first Indo-European peoples saw in many deities the manifestation of primordial fires and the spring of the symbolic, a certain union where opposites stop showing themselves through the theater of demonstrations to get lost in unity. Sutras such as the Diamond and the Heart, expose the forms of Samadhi, said in a very imprecise way, the different states and symbols of the state of emptiness. «The crystal with which the world was born, was imprinted by misfortune and time in the hands of man, its tick-tock, the first Adam is heard loudly in the heart of man».

Encountering Islam Yew-Foong Hui, 2013 This volume seeks to introduce and deepen the understanding of Islam and its role in politics as encountered in different national and transnational contexts in Southeast Asia, eschewing the neo-orientalist approach that has informed public discourse in recent years. In Encountering Islam, the book lingers beyond the summary moment and reflects on the multiple impressions, suppressions and repressions, whether coherent or incoherent, associated with Islam as a socio-political force in public life. To this end, it is not adequate simply to represent the divergent identities associated with Islam in Southeast Asia, whether embedded in state-endorsed orthodoxy or Islamic movements that contest such orthodoxy. It is also important to examine religious minorities in political contexts where Islam is dominant and Muslim communities in national contexts where they are minorities. By situating these religious identities within their larger socio-political contexts, this volume seeks to provide a more holistic understanding of what is encountered as Islam in Southeast Asia.

Failed Führers Graham Macklin, 2020-03-27 This book provides a comprehensive history of the ideas and ideologues associated with the racial fascist tradition in Britain. It charts the evolution of the British extreme right from its post-war genesis after 1918 to its present-day incarnations, and details the ideological and strategic evolution of British fascism through the prism of its principal leaders and the movements with which they were associated. Taking a collective biographical approach, the book focuses on the political careers of six principal ideologues and leaders, Arnold Leese (1878–1956); Sir Oswald Mosley (1896–1980); A.K. Chesterton (1899–1973); Colin Jordan (1923–2009); John Tyndall (1934–2005); and Nick Griffin (1959–), in order to study the evolution of the racial ideology of British fascism, from overtly biological conceptions of ‘white supremacy’ through ‘racial nationalism’ and latterly to ‘cultural’ arguments regarding ‘ethno-nationalism’. Drawing on extensive archival research and often obscure primary texts and propaganda as well as the official records of the British government and its security services, this is the definitive historical account of Britain’s extreme right and will be essential reading for all students and scholars of race relations, extremism and fascism.
