Consultations and Appointments Form Organiser for Indian Head Massage Therapists Galina St George, 2019-05-31 My name is Galina St George. I am a Natural Health and Beauty Practitioner, Massage Therapist, Hypnotherapist, Stress Management and Health Coach. I have been studying natural health since 1999 and have completed many courses all of which required substantial learning, including doing case studies as part of the courses. While doing my case studies, I noticed that all of us had to create our own consultation forms. Having finished working with the client, it was very easy to misplace and lose the forms since they were just printed pieces of paper. Now, imagine being a practising therapist. Every consultation form contains the information which a therapist should keep just in case there are issues with the client which may involve an insurance company. The other point is that with the tightening of GDPR rules recently, it is now more important than ever to keep all the records safe. Imagine your consultation forms with sensitive and very private information lying all over the place and being found by other people! I do understand that these days many therapists use computers to fill in the consultation forms and keep their clients' records. However, computers can get hacked. This is why I believe that nothing can replace an old-fashioned method of filling out physical consultation forms. So, to help my fellow-therapists and students who are learning to become ones, I have decided to create this book of consultation forms and appointment sheets for Indian Head Massage Therapists. You can use it for booking and treating new and existing clients. You can also use these forms for your case studies. If you already offer or plan to study other therapies, do check out my author page to see what else I have to offer!

Consultations & Appointments Form Organiser for Sports Massage Therapists Galina St

George, 2019-05-31 Are you a Sports Massage Therapist? I am, and I know how hard it can be to organise my consultation forms and appointments and keep them all in one place. The Data Protection regulations are becoming tighter every year, which is of course a good thing. However, it also puts that extra pressure on those of us keeping the records to ensure that they don't get lost or used by others for malicious purposes. So we do need to take extra care to keep our client's records extra-safe. With most therapists using computer records nowadays, it may seem less of an issue, except that it isn't. Computers break down. Sometimes if we are extremely unlucky, they get hacked. This means that our clients' data can be obtained by criminals. But even if it doesn't happen, I believe that it's important for both for ourselves and our clients' sake to maintain physical records of the consultations and treatments in case if a client believes that their health has been compromised as a result of a visit to and treatment by a sports massage practitioner. Our insurers will require a full record of the consultation and treatment. These thoughts have resulted in my idea to put all the consultation and appointment records into one book. It will keep everything in one place for your own peace of mind and you will be able to find the records without having to rummage through files and pieces of paper for hours trying to find that important consultation form which you need in order to find out what complaint the client had and what treatment was provided for it. Of course, having it all in one book doesn't eliminate the risk of losing the records. However, as long as you keep them all secure, it will diminish the possibility of odd forms getting into the wrong hands. It will also help you as a therapist find the information you are looking for without much of an effort.
